1. Background

The Housing Development Agency (HDA) is a national public sector development agency that acquires, prepares as well as develop the land and project manage the development of housing and human settlements. We carry out our activities in partnership with a range of stakeholders including national, provincial, municipalities as well as with communities, developers, financiers and other affected parties. Established in 2009, the Agency is created in terms of an Act of Parliament in 2008 and is accountable through its board to the Minister of Human Settlements.

The objects of the Agency are to;

- (a) Identify, acquire, hold, develop and release state, communal and privately owned land for residential and community purposes and for the creation of sustainable human settlement;
- (b) Project manage housing development services for the purposes of the creation of sustainable human settlements;
- (c) Ensure and monitor that there is centrally coordinated planning and budgeting of all infrastructure required for housing development; and
- (d) Monitor the provision of all Infrastructure required for housing development.

2. Functions of the HDA

Section 7 (1) of the HDA Act outlines the HDA's functions. It stipulates inter alia that the HDA must:

- (a) Develop a development plan to be approved by the Minister in consultation with the relevant authorities in the provinces and municipalities
- (b) Develop strategic plans with regard to the identification and acquisition of state, privately and communally owned land that is suitable for residential and community development
- (c) Enhance the capacity of organs of state, including skills transfer, to enable them to meet the demand for housing delivery
- (d) Ensure that there is collaboration and intergovernmental and integrated alignment for housing development services

- (e) Assist organs of state with the upgrading of informal settlements
- (f) Assist organs of state in respect of emergency housing solutions

The HDA carries out its activities in partnership with a range of stakeholders including national, provincial and local government and municipalities, as well as with communities, developers, financiers and other affected parties.

3. Purpose of this Project

The HDA is faced with rapid changes and shifts in the stakeholder and inter-governmental space within which it exists and operates. Furthermore, potential development partners seek certainty of development outcomes and returns when entering into partnerships with the agency. Accordingly, the agency needs to adapt to, and navigate, the intergovernmental space swiftly in order to sustain its ongoing operations and execute its functions and mandate.

This also requires the agency to reposition itself and possibly its operating assumptions when considering development partnerships. The Agency therefore requires to review its current approach to, and participation in, inter-governmental spaces and partnerships as well as adopt a new generation Strategy geared to position and enable the Agency to achieve its set Strategic Objectives

During an intensive participatory strategy review and planning process held in August 2022 the HDA re-confirmed its decision to make the strategic shift to playing the role of a public sector property developer to make a meaningful tangible contribution to the human settlement priorities of government. Within this context, ensuing discussions focussed on the niche focus areas, key functions, impact, outcomes and outputs to achieve the HDA's Vision of being "The public sector Developer of Choice providing integrated, sustainable human settlements and security of tenure. Among other things is the recognition of the following:

- HDA must be able to act as the "principal" in developments where it would typically acquire, develop and release land, on its own or in partnership with the private sector, for own profit, which could be reapplied towards further developments.
- HDA must be able to strengthen its own balance sheet.
- HDA must pro-actively act as catalyst of developments.

- HDA must be able to generate income from project management fees.
- HDA will share project and financial risk with its strategic delivery partners.
- Must be able to competently implement all the four objects of the HDA as articulated in the HDA Act no 23 of 2008
- HDA must leverage on the significant assets it already has, namely: its significant skills base, experience, project database, land database and market intelligence (both from a public and private sector side).

The Strategic Plan of the HDA outlines the key enablers towards becoming the Public Sector Developer of Choice. The enablers must be supported by key actions and monitored closely.

4. Scope of Work

The HDA has noted rapid changes in inter-governmental spaces and development partners' expectations, all of which present a new and different frontier of opportunities for the agency. These circumstances resulted in a need for the agency to review its approach and adopt an updated strategy.
